MIXED ITEMS

Boxboard Cereal boxes, 6- and 12-pack beverage carriers, shoe boxes, paper egg cartons, tissue boxes, paper towel and toilet paper cores NO milk or juice cartons, drink boxes, detergent boxes, or boxes from the refrigerator or freezer Paper that is used to package food items that go in the fridge or freezer are reinforced in one of two ways. One is recyclable, one isn't. The RECYCLABLE reinforcement is a chemical coating. This can be found on 6 or 12-pack soft-drink or beer cartons and cases, and some frozen food boxes. You can usually tell when something has been coated chemically by looking at the interior of the box or carton. If it has the "natural" cardboard color, that's a good indicator that it is coated chemically and can be recycled.
