

Webinar Series

Wednesday, May 22, 2019 12:00-1:00PM

Rabies and Animal Bites

Dr. Natalie Kwit, State Public Health Veterinarian

Wednesday, June 19, 2019 12:00-1:00PM

Pests: Rats, Bedbugs, and Other Creepy Crawlies

Representative, Vermont Agency of Agriculture, Food & Markets

Wednesday, August 14, 2019 12:00-1:00PM

Drinking Water Quality: View of Public Systems and Private Wells

Ben Montross, Vt. Department of Environmental Conservation

Sille Larsen, Vt. Department of Health, Environmental Health Division

Wednesday, September 11, 2019 12:00-1:00PM

Rental Housing Inspections

Meg McCarthy, Vt. Department of Health, Environmental Health Division

Register Here:

<https://register.gotowebinar.com/rt/6229781602910967309>

In-Person Training Schedule

Presented by Meg McCarthy and officials from the Vermont Department of Health. Registration begins at 8:30AM.

Duties of a Health Officer

Thursday, April 18, 2019 Williston Rd., Burlington

Thursday, April 25, 2019 State St., Montpelier

Thursday, July 18, 2019 Holiday Dr., Rutland

9:00-12:00

Holiday Inn

Capitol Plaza

Holiday Inn

Register Here: www.vlct.org/training-events

Vermont League of Cities Towns and the Vermont Department of Health

Health Officer Training Series

healthvermont.gov/THO

Health Officer Education Series

With training and each year, VLCT and the Vermont Department of Health (VDH) provide regional training opportunities for health officers and local boards of health free of charge, thanks to financial support from VDH. The goal of these trainings is to prepare new officials, share updates and essential resources, and provide a refresher to experienced health officers on the roles and responsibilities of this important position.

---

Act 188 of 2018 resulted in changes to the roles of local health officers and the responsibilities of local boards of health with regard to rental inspections and rental housing. VDH will provide the latest information on the impacts of this legislation with guidance, tools, and available resources.

---

Meg McCarthy Compliance and Enforcement Advisor for VDH, will summarize the duties and responsibilities of and resources available to town health officers. Town health officers will learn how to identify common public health hazards, conduct inspections, and determine when and how to issue health orders and promote positive public health outcomes in their communities.

See back of brochure for a complete schedule and registration information.

Events and Resources

Live Trainings

Three live three hour trainings hosted by the Vermont League of Cities and Towns will be reproduced at venues around the state in an effort to reach officers in their regions.

Webinars

New this year, VLCT will host a series of free webinars for municipal health officials, conducted by trainers from the Vermont Department of Health, the Department of Environmental Conservation, and the Agency of Agriculture. See back of brochure for registration information.

Resources

The Vermont Department of Health has available a large number of resources, links to other agencies, and contact information to assist officials in their duties. This information, including a the recently revised Town Health Officer Manual, is available on the Health Department website,